Friendship is important for everyone. It's good to have friends and to feel included and accepted by our peers.

Mojo and Friends will help children to understand that being different is a positive thing and that we are all unique individuals.

It encourages children to value and consider the feelings of others and recognise that we are all good at something.

Mojo and Friends is a beautifully written and illustrated storybook which captures children's imagination through its characterisation of fascinating unusual animals, such as Maisie B, Mojo and Betty Boo, Lissa the loud Llama, Tina the one-eyed tiger, A Fish out of water, Matthew the Monkey, The Elephant who forgot and Steven, the snake who couldn't speak. The Storybook contains SEVEN individual stories.

Each of the characters tell an individual story in a very carefully planned and sensitive way about being seen as different, how that makes them feel, and how they overcome this.

Each of the SEVEN stories are designed to encourage and promote discussion and learning in emotional and social intelligence, whereby encouraging children to be inclusive, treat each other equally, and value and consider the feelings of others.
